

TESTIMONY IS STILL LURID

Evelyn Thaw Continues To Tell Of Her Awful Experiences With White.

THAW'S LETTERS READ IN COURT

His Mind Apparently Unbalanced By The Awful Disclosures Of Evelyn's Association With Man He Murdered.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw again took the witness stand when the Thaw trial began today and Attorney Delmas continued reading one of the letters which was interrupted by the adjournment yesterday afternoon.
Mr. Delmas read a number of letters from Thaw to Attorney Longfellow and to Evelyn Nesbit, showing they were all written in a rambling unconnected fashion with a tone of despondency running through them all.
In one of the letters to Evelyn, Thaw said: "I will never hurt you. By the hope there is of a heaven above your poor soul shall go there. I give you my sacred word I wish not to hurt you."
Another letter said: "If you could have owned Pittsburg not in money but politically."
Mrs. Thaw told of going to Abe Hummel's office with White. The lawyer put on a paper a "lot of stuff about my being carried off by Thaw against my will and a lot of stuff that was not true. I started to interrupt but he would not let me. I signed absolutely nothing in Hummel's office."
Mrs. Thaw said Harry accused her of having improper relations with White after her return from Europe and "I said it was all a lie; I had not."
Mrs. Thaw testified she signed a paper in the Madison Square Garden building which White said was of no significance. She said this paper was afterwards burned in Hummel's office.
Mrs. Thaw said White tried to kill her many times. "He tried to shoot me alone," she cried and said, "I was not a human being."
Mrs. Thaw testified that Stanford White made several attempts to renew the friendship with her after her marriage to Thaw, and that she told her husband of it and he was very angry.
All Alone.
Mrs. Thaw testified that after her return to the United States from Europe White had tried to kiss her and had begged her to come to see him alone. "But when she would not he cried and said she was not a human being, but she told him she did not wish to have anything more to do with him."
Made Pretext.
He visited her after her return from Europe on the pretext it was a matter of life and death and had to do with her family. He told her "dreadful stories about Harry and that to protect myself we must get him out of New York."
Abe Hummel Again.
He then took me to Abe Hummel, and they dictated a lot of things to a stenographer about Harry Thaw that were not true and when I started ed in to interrupt they would not let me and said I must help get Thaw out of New York and keep him out."

Signed Nothing.
Mrs. Thaw said she signed nothing at the time, but did sign a paper she knew nothing about at White's office in response to his repeated demands. She later asked for this paper and was taken to Hummel's office, where they showed her the paper with her name to it and agreed to burn it up.
Her Marriage.
Delmas tried to question her about some event in her life which finally induced her to accept Thaw and about a visit she received from Mrs. William Thaw, but under objections by Jerome the answers were not allowed. Mr. Jerome also kept out the answer to question as to whether after their return from their wedding trip the Thaws lived in a house of their own or at the home of the elder Mrs. Thaw.
Lunch Stops Work.
Mrs. Thaw was about to tell what she knew of Jack Barrymore, whom she met at a dinner given by White, when the luncheon recess was ordered.
Barrymore Proposed.
Mrs. Thaw resumed the stand at this afternoon's session of the court and said when she told Stanford White of "Jack" Barrymore's invitation he became very angry and said he would send her away to school in New Jersey. She said that one day in White's studio Barrymore asked if she would marry him and that she replied that she did not know.
Objected to.
When Defending Attorney Delmas asked Mrs. Thaw if Thaw had told her of the fate of other girls at the hands of this man White, District Attorney Jerome objected to "any further defamations being thrown upon the dead who have no chance to answer."
Objection Sustained.
Justice Fitzgerald said he thought further competent evidence as to Harry K. Thaw's insanity should be introduced before any further testimony along the line of that submitted today was taken. "We are ready to submit proof," said Delmas.
Examination Changes.
The line of the examination changed and Mrs. Thaw was asked to identify more letters. One of the papers Mrs. Thaw was asked to identify was Thaw's will. Mrs. Thaw was temporarily excused and Miss Francis E. Pierce called to the stand to identify her signature as a witness to Thaw's will, but the judge ruled out the evidence at this time, being because the handwriting and interlineation had not been proved.
Mrs. Thaw resumed the stand testified she told Thaw that other girls met a fate similar to hers through White. The Thaw case was then adjourned until Monday.

SENATOR FRAZIER SPEAKS ON THE JAPANESE PROBLEM

Tennessee Senator Takes Same View As Does The San Francisco School Board.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Federal enunciation on state rights, with the Japanese school question as the principal illustration, was the subject of an address to the senate today by Senator Frazier of Tennessee.
Mr. Frazier said that this was not a question that concerned California, but concerned the right of every state to control its domestic affairs. If the federal government by treaty could rob a state of the right to control its own school system, the last stronghold of local self-government was destroyed. If a treaty could force Mongolians into the white schools of California, a like treaty could force the negroes of Cuba, Santo Domingo, Hayti and the Congo into the schools of Tennessee in defiance of the laws for the separation of the races. He expressed the highest admiration for the Japanese but said that the action of California furnished no pretext for quarrel with that country. The school board of San Francisco had simply executed a state law providing for the education of white and Japanese children in separate schools. It had been decided over and over again that states had a perfect right to make such separation; that the state of California was but exercising its legal and constitutional power.
He denied with emphasis that this government had ever undertaken by treaty to interfere with the constitutional rights of California in this respect. Quoting the language of the treaty he said: "I challenge anyone to find in it a word guaranteeing to Japanese residents the right to enter public schools of the states at all, much less to enter them in defiance of state laws and regulations."
The United States government cannot compel a state to create public schools at all. The schools were creatures of state law, maintained by state taxation and subject only to state control. The right of residence guaranteed to the Japanese, implied the right to work and make a living, but not to go to school. But even if the right of residence did carry with it the right to enter public schools, he added, it did not carry any exemption from the right of separation in the schools. The treaty with Japan provided that the Japanese must conform themselves to the laws, police, and regulations of the country like native citizens. Can it be contended that Japanese aliens have acquired higher privileges than they would have as citizens of the United States?
He contended that the President ought to have followed the example of Mr. Blaine, in the case of the lynching of Italian citizens in New Orleans. There was a treaty with Italy which guaranteed protection to Italian citizens, but when the Italian government complained Mr. Blaine informed it that Italian citizens had no higher right than American citizens and that the right to punish for murder was

M'KINLEY TO TALK ON JAP INVASION

California Congressman Will Speak in Springfield, Ill., on School Question.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 8.—The Springfield Admen's Club has made preparations for an elaborate scale for a banquet to be given at the St. Nicholas hotel tonight in honor of Congressman McKinley of California. Congressman McKinley has accepted an invitation to address the members of the club on the subject of the school question on the Pacific coast.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 8.—The social democrats in the Wisconsin legislature went after the United States supreme court today by presenting a memorial to congress and all the states to investigate the authority by which the court affirmed the Moyer-Hayward case from Colorado and "legalized" the crime of kidnapping in violation of the federal constitution. The memorial has no hope of adoption, but will give the socialists excuse for making inflammatory speeches. Many new bills were introduced today, because all must be in tomorrow. A bill was introduced in the assembly today to prohibit wearing of lights by women on the stage, also to sterilize "unnatural" criminals and feeble-minded persons of certain privacies. Senator Burns introduced a measure to cut out the state census, save the $20,000 expense of it and follow the federal census for the purpose of apportionment. Senator Burns proposes the establishment of a state school of mines. Senator Froemming demands an eight-hour day on all public works. Senator Rummel took steps toward another investigation of "state insurance."

Kentuckian Entered United States Navy Just at Close of Civil War.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Rear Admiral William W. Mead, having reached the age limit for active service, was today placed on the retired list of the navy. Though he has no civil war record, Admiral Mead has been in the service for forty-two years, having left the Naval Academy just when the conflict between the states had ended. Admiral Mead is a native of Kentucky and was appointed to the Naval Academy from that state. He reached the grade of lieutenant in 1869 and it was about that time that he commanded a landing party from the Colorado that captured and destroyed the American expedition seeking to open up friendly commercial relations with the "Hermes Kingdom." During the latter part of the war with Spain, Admiral Mead commanded the Machias. Subsequent to reaching the grade of captain in 1899 he commanded the Philadelphia and subsequently served as a member of the board of inspection and as commandant of the naval training station at Newport. In 1904 he was assigned to the command of the navy yard at Portsmouth, N. H. Admiral Mead is the second on a list of eleven rear admirals who are to be retired during the year 1907 for age. The next one whose name will be removed from the active list is Rear Admiral Joseph E. Craig, commandant of the League Island navy yard. The date of Admiral Craig's retirement is February 24.

RAILROADS REPORT THREE WRECKS ON THEIR SYSTEMS

Northwestern, St. Paul and Burlington All Have Bad Mix-Ups This Morning—Several Are Killed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Ill., Feb. 8.—One trainman was killed and a dozen passengers injured, some fatally, when the "Champion Flyer" of the St. Paul railroad collided today within the city limits with a switch engine. The passengers fought savagely to get out of the cars after the crash, many being cut about the face and hands by broken glass. The injured are: Peter Herberston, Milwaukee; Mrs. James L. King of Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harris of Crystal Falls, Wis.; S. D. Dineer of Curtis; Willson and Nels Owen, Chicago.

MAYORALTY FIGHT OPENS ON HARRISON'S RETURN

Former Chicago Executive and Dunne Lead Two Of Most Important Among Five Democratic Factions.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., Feb. 8.—Former Mayor Carter H. Harrison, who has been spending the winter in Pasadena, is expected home within the next few days. On his arrival the mayoralty campaign, which is expected to be one of the warmest that Chicago has seen in many years, will be on in full blast.
For the first time in the history of the city the next mayor is to be chosen for a term of four years. The lengthened tenure is in accordance with an act of the legislature. The next mayor, moreover, will be the first to administer the affairs of the city under a new charter.
The most interest in the campaign centers in the fight for the democratic nomination. Mayor Dunne has formally announced himself a candidate for re-election on a platform of opposition to the proposed immediate settlement of the street car franchise question. He wants the rehabilitation of the service postponed until after the municipal election.
Former Mayor Harrison, after considerable delay, has finally declared his willingness to be a candidate for the fifth time, thereby emulating the record of his father, the elder Carter Harrison, who served five terms of two years each. Friends of Harrison appear confident that he will win out in the democratic primaries to be held two weeks hence. The Harrison crowd claims that the complications that have attended Mayor Dunne's course on the traction question have alienated many of his former followers.
A factor in the contest, not to be overlooked is the Hearst Independence League, which, though not strong enough to accomplish much on its own hook, still possesses sufficient influence to have an important bearing on the situation when it joins issues with one of the other democratic factions. Just where its influence will be thrown in the present fight is not yet clear. There is much reason to believe that it will not be for Mayor Dunne to succeed himself. Neither have the Hearst followers much love for Harrison.
There are at least five factions among the democrats and how the full power of the party can be concentrated on any one man, either at the primary or at the election, seems a difficult question to answer.
Because of this situation among the democrats, the republicans are more hopeful than for many years that they will be able to elect a mayor. This hope is shown by the number of republican leaders who have expressed a willingness to accept the nomination.
The most likely candidate appears to be Fred A. Busse, present postmaster of Chicago and a political power in several city wards. Mr. Busse is an avowed candidate for the honor and many leaders of the party, especially those who have been known as politicians, have openly expressed their preference for him. Busse owes his appointment as postmaster to Senator Cullom, which fact does not tend to strengthen him in the favor of Governor Deneen and the state administration. But this phase of the matter is not expected to cut such an important figure on the contest as it might have done a year or so ago.
There is growing evidence that the men who have been running the party machinery are not to be allowed to dictate the nomination; that the majority this time will be the expression of the business element of the city.
Many republicans, especially those outside the lines of the professed politicians, are in favor of the nomination of Alexander H. Revell. Mr. Revell is a leading merchant and while not an active politician, has always taken a prominent part in every movement, political or otherwise, that aimed for the welfare of Chicago. Mr. Revell, while unwilling to make a personal fight either at the primaries or in the convention, is nevertheless regarded as a receptive candidate and, with the exception of Mr. Busse, the man most likely to receive the nomination.

SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE PRESENT WEEK

Numerous Card Parties and Teas Mark the Closing Days of Pre-Lenten Gaiety.

Attendance was good at the private skating party given at the rink last evening and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by the participants in the pastime. As usual, the music was excellent. The festivities closed at 10:30.

Friends of Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Farnsworth enroute to Milton for a sleigh ride last evening, called at their home on Park Place and with a few neighbors passed a few hours very pleasantly. Mr. and Mrs. Will P. Saxles carried home the booby prize, a package of Lion brand of coffee.

Mrs. William Ruger, Jr., was hostess at a one o'clock luncheon at her home on Court street yesterday. The first prize at bridge whist was won by Miss Katherine Finfield and the consolation trophy by Miss Winifred Finfield.

Members of a euchre club were guests of Mrs. Susan Wilcox yesterday at the home of her son on South Second street. The prize was captured by Mrs. D. W. Watt. Tea was served at 5:30.

At her home on East street today Mrs. M. G. Jeffris is entertaining the members of the J. J. card club. Mrs. Jeffris will entertain one of the whist clubs on Saturday.

Mrs. S. B. Kenyon entertained a company of friends at a four-course dinner given at her home on Milton avenue last evening. After the repeat several hours were devoted to High King. Mrs. Frank Slawson won cards. Mrs. Frank Slawson won second.

The card party and dance of St. Mary's Court, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, given in Central hall last evening, was attended by more than three hundred people. At the card tables the first prizes were won by Mrs. Phil Sheridan and Mr. Blunk and the seconds by Miss Ellen Nolan and Charles Murray. While these festivities were in order in the Caledonian rooms the dance program was being carried on in the hall above, Roy Carter's orchestra furnishing the music. The party was the sixth this year and the last to be held before Lent. It was most successful in every way and much credit is due the committee consisting of Mrs. Thomas F. Fox, Mrs. James Buchanan and Miss Anna Feeley. These were assisted by the Misses Ellen and Anna Doran.

MAY CUT-OFF MANY ON RURAL ROUTES

Postmaster Valentine Receives Instruction Regarding Condemned Mail Boxes.

Last September an inspection in the department of rural free delivery of the United States Post Office toured all the routes centering at Janesville and condemned many of the mail boxes belonging to farmers. Notices that these receptacles were unfit for service and should be replaced by new and approved boxes, were sent to the owners during the yearly part of January. In these announcements it was stated that the change must be made within sixty days. Now Postmaster Valentine has received orders to cut off from the routes all patrons not complying with the demand. The so-called approved boxes are of metal of a certain grade and weight and are for sale by many retail concerns.

Rumor Proves False. It was rumored about the streets this morning that Miss M. Louise Peterson, for many years assistant postmaster and in charge of the money order department, has resigned. Inquiry at the postoffice proved the report to be false. Postmaster Valentine stated that Miss Peterson would retain her position and that there was no law or civil service regulation against women acting in the capacity of assistants in first or second class offices.

PRESS COMMENT.

Reform in La Crosse. Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The reform movement has been given a strange twist at La Crosse, and the results will be awaited with an unusual degree of interest. Because the brewers joined with the ministers in a crusade against slot machines and certain other evils, the retail liquor dealers have gone one better, by setting on foot a movement for Sunday closing. To this end they have decided to petition Attorney General Gilbert to enforce the state law closing saloons on Sunday. Just where this competition between the brewers and the clergy on the one hand, and the retail liquor dealers on the other may lead, it is difficult to predict at this stage of the game. Apparently it is the purpose of the liquor dealers to give the public such large doses of reform that they will react and allow the old order of things to be resumed.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER GIVES $32,000,000

GREAT DONATION TO GENERAL EDUCATION BOARD.

LARGEST IN ALL HISTORY

Announcement By Oil King's Son Surprises the Members of the General Education Board.

New York, Feb. 8.—Thirty-two millions of dollars worth of income-bearing securities was the gift which John D. Rockefeller, through his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., announced to the general education board when it assembled for a special meeting in this city late Thursday afternoon.

For general education purposes throughout the country, is given as the purpose of this donation—the largest single prize ever handed out for such purposes.

Mr. Rockefeller previously had given the board $11,000,000 for the same work, his contributions now amounting to $43,000,000.

Simply Announced by Son.

The general education board apparently was not prepared for this gift, which was announced simply in this letter:

"New York, Feb. 6, 1907. General Education Board, 54 William street, New York city—Gentlemen: My father authorizes me to say that on or before April 1, 1907, he will give to the general board income-bearing securities of the present market value of which is about thirty-two million dollars; ($32,000,000) one-third to be added to the permanent endowment of the board, two-thirds to be applied to such specific objects within the corporate purposes of the board, as either he or I may from time to time direct, any remainder not so designated at the death of the survivor to be added also to the permanent endowment of the board. Very truly, John D. Rockefeller, Jr."

Most of the members of the board were surprised at the announcement and amazed at the size of the gift. Dr. Buttrick, the secretary, said he did not know the gift was to be made until he received the letter.

Board's Letter of Thanks.

The board voted to accept the gift and in appreciation drafted a letter to the elder Mr. Rockefeller in part as follows:

"This is the largest sum ever given by a man in the history of the race for any social or philanthropic purposes. The board congratulates you upon the high and wise impulse which has moved you to this deed, and desires to thank you in behalf of all educational interests whose development it will advance in behalf of our country, whose civilization for all time it should be made to strengthen and elevate, and in behalf of mankind everywhere in whose interests it has been given, and for whose use it is dedicated.

Feels the Responsibility.

The administration of this fund rests upon the general education board the most far-reaching responsibilities ever placed upon any educational organization in the world. As members of the board, we accept this responsibility, conscious of its difficulties, and its opportunities. We will use our best wisdom to transmit your gift into intellectual and moral power, counting it a supreme privilege to dedicate whatever strength we have to its just use in the service of men. Very respectfully yours, Frederick T. Gates, chairman; George Foster Peabody, treasurer; Dr. Wallace Buttrick, secretary; Robert C. Ogden, J. D. Rockefeller, Jr., Albert Shaw, Starr J. Murphy, Edward A. Alderman, Harry Pratt Judson."

The absent members of the board, whose names were affixed to the letter to Mr. Rockefeller by their associates, were: E. Benjamin Andrews, Hollis B. Frissell, Daniel C. Gilman, Hugh H. Hanna, Morris K. Jesup, Walter H. Page.

A copy of this letter will be engrossed on parchment and sent to each member of the board for his autograph signature, and will then be formally presented to Mr. Rockefeller. While the board was in session Thursday gifts to five colleges were ordered, amounting in all to $400,000 as follows: Beloit college, Beloit, Wis.; Morningside college, Sioux City, Ia.; Lafayette college, Easton, Pa.; $50,000 each; Wabash college, Crawfordsville, Ind., and the University of Wooster, Wooster, O., each $125,000.

week at Deanfront Castle, has called public attention to the remarkable series of tragedies that have befallen the Earls of Stratford and their connections in recent years. Lady Dorothy was a daughter of the present Earl of Stratford, who succeeded to the title on the death of the fourth Earl of Stratford, who married Mrs. Samuel Colgate of New York. Eighty years ago the fourth Earl met a tragic death by accidentally falling under a railway train not far from London. While standing on the station platform at Potter's Bar the Earl was seized with a fit and fell to the tracks. The Cambridge express came whirling along at the same time and the Earl's body was decapitated and mangled almost beyond recognition. The present Earl owes his title to a tragedy. The third Earl, who died in 1898, was without male issue, his two sons having died within a short distance of time from one another. The death of the eldest son was singularly tragic. He was traveling with his father in the Mediterranean and mysteriously disappeared from on board the ship somewhere between Gibraltar and Malta, the presumption being that he must have lost his balance and fallen into the sea, no one being with him at the time of his disappearance.

DALRYMPLE COMEDY CO. OPENED HERE

Last Evening Before a Big, Delighted Audience—"The White Slave" Is the Bill Tonight.

The Dalrymple Comedy Co., one of the best repertoire companies which has appeared here in several years, opened a three nights and Saturday matinee engagement at the Myers theatre last evening before a crowded house. "A Runaway Tramp" was the bill and Miss Mina Griffin as leading lady, Mr. Dalrymple, and Billy Boston in the comedy role, showed themselves to be players of high ability. The support also was uniformly excellent. Potts & Potts, the musical Japs, and Prof. Bryden's dancing dogs were splendid features of the between-the-act, vaudeville specialties, and the entire entertainment met with the warmest approval of the spectators. The bill tonight is "The White Slave."

Judge Grimm Will Try It. Attorney Thomas S. Nolan having retained by the five aldermen who wish to have the question of their right to $5-a-meeting compensation tested in the courts, the case will be taken before Judge Grimm during the February term. City Attorney Maxfield will represent the city's interests.

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN BY IMPURE BLOOD

A great many people have an idea that old sores exist merely because of a diseased condition of the flesh where the ulcer is located. They patiently apply salves, powders, plasters and other external applications, but in spite of all such treatment the place refuses to heal. When ever a sore or ulcer does not heal readily the blood is at fault; this vital fluid is filled with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place, feeding it with noxious matter, which makes it impossible for the sore to heal. Old sores may be the result of an inherited blood taint, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, or again the circulation may be contaminated with the collections of refuse matter which the different members have failed to expel through the channels of nature. Whatever the cause the blood becomes steeped in poison and a cut, bruise, scratch or other wound often develops into a sore, fed and kept up by these impurities, causing it to eat deeper into the surrounding tissue, inflaming, festering and causing pain. External applications can only keep the sore clean; they cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. cures Old Sores by going to the very bottom of the trouble, driving out the impurities and poisons and purifying and building up the entire circulation. When S. S. S. has removed the cause the blood becomes rich and healthy, the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, the place scabs over and is soon permanently healed. RIVER AND HARBOR BILL IS PASSED

HOUSE APPROVES MEASURE CARRYING $83,000,000.

AMENDED BY COMMITTEE

Senate Handles the Indian Appropriation Bill Quite Roughly, Rejecting Several Very Important Amendments.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The house Thursday completed and passed the river and harbor appropriation bill, carrying more than $83,000,000, with sundry amendments, all of which were suggested by the chairman of the committee, Mr. Burton, of Ohio. Among the important amendments adopted were:

To construct dam No. 3 and complete dam No. 2 in Allegheny river, $235,000, being an increase of $25,000. Improving Bay Ridge and Red Hook channels of New York, the secretary of war being authorized in his discretion to prosecute the improvement in said channels, with a view to obtaining first a depth of 35 feet, and subsequently increasing it to the full depth allowed in the adopted project as the available depth in the entrance to said harbor shall require.

For continuing the improvement and for the maintenance of the Chicago river, $200,000, being an increase of $180,000.

Calumet River Project. The paragraph in relation to the Calumet river, Illinois and Indiana, was amended so as to authorize the secretary of war to enter into a contract to complete the project, for which $191,500 is appropriated. The aggregate cost is limited to $1,700,000, exclusive of the amounts heretofore appropriated.

A survey of the Missouri river was authorized from its mouth to Sioux City; also a survey of the Savannah river, Georgia, for 30 miles below Augusta.

A bill amending the denatured alcohol bill was passed. The naval appropriation bill was taken up and made the continuing order.

A Bad Day for Indian Bill. The Indian appropriation bill received rough handling at the hands of the senate. The amendments of the committee, and especially those suggested by the special committee which went to the Indian Territory last summer to investigate conditions there, were nearly all rejected on points of order.

USES FOR DENATURED ALCOHOL

The substitution of alcohol for gasoline for the operation of an automobile promises to be attended with at least one advantage which had not been clearly foreseen. That its fumes were inoffensive. That its odorless, has long been recognized, but it now appears that the use of alcohol tends also to reduce the noise emitted by the engine. The man in charge of the motor car in which that fluid was employed as fuel for last week's run from New York to Boston declares that the "ignition knock," a peculiar metallic sound that is characteristic of gasoline cars, was entirely absent. This noise is not identical with the "chug chug" caused by the explosions which drive a machine, but means of preventing it ought to prove acceptable to the owner of an automobile. Even if alcohol should for a time cost more than gasoline, the two merits here mentioned should commend it strongly to favor.

The benefits of the law freeing from tax alcohol used otherwise than as a beverage were doubtless exaggerated when the subject was under discussion last year, but persons who own and ride in motor cars are not the only ones who are likely to profit by that piece of legislation. Alcohol will be promptly adopted for the operation of small engines in the shop and on the farm, if the price is ever lower than that of gasoline. Poor though the prospect of such a change is just now, the possibility ought to be kept steadily in mind. Perhaps the farmer may be able to obtain cheap alcohol before the mechanic does, for the way may yet be open to him to manufacture it himself.

Apparently the only way in which alcohol can be turned to account for purposes of illumination is to burn it under such a "mantle" as constitutes the essential feature of a well known type of gas burner. The delicate fabric which is made incandescent by heat needs to be shielded by a chimney, but a lamp of this sort was once invented for use with kerosene, and no material modification would seem to be required to adapt it to the consumption of alcohol. Are the lamp makers of the country full alive to their opportunities?

For the sake of the man she loved Evelyn Thaw laid bare the history of her life and her associations with White. It was a sacrifice that many women would have hesitated making even for the life of the man they loved. The story with all its sordid and revolting details was told in open court and has a ring of truth about it that makes one shudder to think that such people as White exist.

Despite frequent rumors that the Gazette was preparing to endorse certain candidates for city office before the coming spring primaries the fact remains that all candidates will be treated impartially until after the primary day. The right, however, to criticize the records of possible candidates is reserved even before the primaries.

The Baker Manufacturing Company of Evansville has demonstrated that a business where the employees are made owners can be a success. Such propositions would mean the end of all strikes and labor disputes if followed in the larger cities.

Now that the Oklahoma state constitutional convention has turned down the woman suffragist proposition it is possible that some of the delegates will not be so pleased to return to their homes.

It is time for everyone to get busy and plan whether they want a Fourth of July celebration or not. Madison is already at work and so is White; why not Janesville? There is a lot of preliminary work that could be done even this early.

There is but little question that roller skating has become the same old popular sport it was fifteen or eighteen years ago. Janesville has gone mad on the subject.

Sentiment is a good thing, but real common sense is far better in the long run. Sentiment does not put money in your pockets while common sense does.

The mail order houses are feeling the crusade begun upon them by the newspapers the country over. The small merchant should be patronized and encouraged to keep his stock up better.

The state legislature is still rushing the introduction of bills in hopes that they may get through before the hot summer months come.

Kaiser William is as proud of his victory at the polls recently as the small boy is who snowballed him and was not even scolded for it.

It would appear as though Mr. Stevens held the whip hand and that Uncle Sam must fish or cut bait if he is to remain in charge.

Mayor Dunne of Chicago is anxious to catch the support of the people by every means in his power, trick or otherwise.

Dr. Wiley of Pittsburg would have proven himself a far better insane authority had he kept off the witness stand.

Forty years ago there was a thaw. There is also a Thaw in New York this year.

Janesville would be willing to have a first-class boom start at any time that it sees fit.

The Walsh case still hangs fire in the Chicago courts.

PRESS COMMENT

Newspaper Foretastes Enough. Chicago News: By the way, who buys and reads these books issued by the professors of the University of Chicago?

Let Those Interested Fight. Milwaukee News: If we must have a war with Japan, why not fence in California and let Schmitz and the Japs fight it out?

Still in Its Infancy. Chicago Record-Herald: Cock fighting has become the principal political issue in Cuba. There are indications that it will be some time before Cuba can be regarded as a world power.

Near-Fame Captured. Exchange: Fame is an illusive thing, but there are several gentlemen who have acquired near-fame by having had the foresight to go to school with some member of the Thaw jury.

What Has Impressed Caruso. Exchange: When Caruso the tenor was asked about his impressions of America and what he liked best in the land of the free, he promptly replied: "The divine cocktails."

Sure About That? Madison Democrat: It is reported from Washington that Congressman Cooper will organize the Wisconsin delegation for a campaign for immediate tariff revision. The voters of the state are with him to the last ditch.

Idleness as a Cause of Gossip. Springfield (Mass.) Republican: "Do women gossip more than men?" asks an exchange. They do, but that's because they have more time and not because they have the stronger inclination for it. An idle man can beat a woman gossiping seven days out of every week.

Faint-Hearted Modern Lovers. Woman at Home: The average modern young man cares only for "game rabbit coursing." He labors under some new-fangled delusion that it is undignified to woo a woman more than half sure of winning. Naturally the sport is dull both to pursue and pursued. The dainty art of courtship is nearly forgotten.

Hubby Innocent for Once. Kansas City Journal: A Bethany woman sat up till 1 o'clock the other night waiting for her husband to come home. At last, weary and worn out with vigil, she went upstairs to retire, only to find her husband in bed fast asleep. Instead of going downtown he had stolen upstairs and crawled into bed, which made his wife so mad she didn't speak to him for a week.

Crafty Old Leopold. El Paso Herald: King Leopold is a wise and wary old sovereign and having skinned the Congo of the last possible penny in profits under the old regime of blood and blows and aroused the whole civilized world to protest, he has quietly unloaded the whole thing, oprobrium and all, on a New York syndicate.

Mayham's Hobby—a Delusion. Sheboygan Journal: Since the death of Dr. Mayham of Fond du Lac, it has been recalled that he had a hobby in opposing appendicitis operations and that he declared that persons who submitted to this operation never survived (more than sixteen years). But there are a great many persons scattered through Wisconsin who have gone through the mill, who are demonstrating that the doctor was wrong.

Where "The Thread Breaks." Madison Democrat: A La Crosse man wants the attorney general to enforce the Sunday closing law throughout the state. Now just wait a minute, brother, before you press that proposition. You must not forget that this is one of those peculiar laws that was enacted for the purpose—here, the thread of thought is broken—and the discussion will have to be laid over, under the rules.

Good Men, But Ought to Pay. Sheboygan Journal: Booker T. Washington and Gen. Booth of the Salvation Army both have been refused railroad passes. The strictest mark of the real reformer is to obey the law. There is no reason why these two men, in spite of all the good they do, should be allowed to ride free, while others, perhaps accomplishing just as much, but not so well known, are compelled to pay. The new law treats everybody alike, and that is all that any citizen ought to ask.

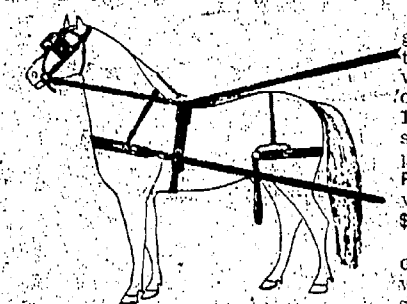

Dixey's Idea of Heaven. New York Tribune: At the Players in New York a number of actors were arguing about the meaning of the word "happiness." In the midst of the argument Henry E. Dixey appeared, and one of the contestants said: "Dixey, what is your idea of happiness?"

Mr. Dixey smiled thoughtfully. Then he replied: "My idea of true happiness is to lie on a couch before a bright fire, smoking a large Havana cigar given me by an admirer, while I listen to a woman who worships me reading loud, flattering press notices about my acting."

"Mary Ann" Should Stay Dead. Exchange: The celebrated "Mary Ann" bill, which was defeated at the last session of the legislature, has been given a new lease of life through an amendment to the present primary election law, proposed by Assemblyman Keppel of La Crosse. The original "Mary Ann" bill provided for a first and second choice at the primary election. The scheme found little favor at that time and the experience of the last election goes to show that the wisdom of the action by which the measure was put to sleep. The present legislature would do well to let the verdict of its predecessor on this question stand.

GIVING THEM AWAY

It is almost like giving them away. During January we selected from our stock about 100 Cloaks, odd garments, broken lots, left over from the past two seasons, and marked them down at $1.00 to $5.00, which prices meant a big loss to us. NOW, in order to close them all out at once we offer them at 1-2 of the marked down prices. These are good garments, well made, excellent materials, and good styles, which a look will quickly prove.

The $2.00 Skirts

are moving, actually worth $5 to $10.

The $5.00 Suits

are tremendous bargains; were $10 to $18.

One-Half Price

for our best cloth winter cloaks, and some fine garments left.

FUR COATS

We have about 15 high grade fur coats to sell—the reliable kind—nearseal, wool seal, beaver, &c. A chance to make a great saving. Costs nothing to look.

FACTORY SHOE SALE CONTINUES AT REHBERG'S

About 100 PAIR LEFT of those Men's Fine Patent Colt $4.00 Shoes Specially Reduced to $3.00

We have disposed of a good many pair during the past week of those Men's shoes which we secured from the factory at a big slice off regular cost. There are altogether, with our own stock of these shoes, about 100 pair left. We have sold them always at $4 and while they last you can have them at $3.00 Per Pair. The styles are blucher and button, the shoes are for either dress or street wear and are about as big a snap bargain as we have ever offered. Come in tomorrow and get a pair at $3.00.

We also have some extra values for Men in Box Calf, Vici Kid, or Patent Colt $3.50 Shoes, every pair guaranteed $2.95
$3.00 Shoes, Box Calf and Vici Kid $2.45

"MAN ALIVE"

What are you paying $10 for gold crowns for? Don't you know that Dr. Richards is making the very best gold crowns in Janesville at just $5 each.

Be alive to your own interests. Let him do your dentistry, and keep that extra $5 bill in your inside pocket.

Sentiment is all O. K. Friendships are all right. But it takes money to buy groceries.

If you choose Dr. Richards for your dentist, you may have your teeth properly cared for and at the same time enjoy the comfortable sight of that extra five dollar bill opening out at you every time you open your purse.

How can he do it?

Because he has not signed a written agreement with 8 or 10 other dentists swearing to charge everybody $10 each for gold crowns.

He makes the best crowns made in the city.

They are pure 22K gold.

They are beautiful.

His price of $5 leaves him a reasonable profit and he is satisfied.

"MISSIONS" AT TWO CHURCHES

JESUIT FATHERS TO BE IN CHARGE AT ST. PATRICK'S.

PASSIONISTS AT ST. MARY'S

Two Weeks, One for Women and One for Men, at First-Named—One Week at Other.

Notable about almost any other events during the Lenten season will be the "missions" at the two Roman Catholic churches of the city. Members of some religious order of the church will be in charge. Two Jesuit priests, Father Johnson from St. Mary's, college of Kansas City and Father McGuire from Sacred Heart college of Chicago, will be at St. Patrick's church for two weeks, commencing March 3. The first week of the mission will be for women and the second for men. Services will be every day at 5:30 and 8:30 or 9:00 in the morning, 3:30 in the afternoon and 7:30 in the evening. Two members of the order of Passionist Fathers will be at St. Mary's church for one week, commencing March 3. They are Father Richard and Father Avelis from Cincinnati and they will conduct services mornings, afternoon and evening.

RUNAWAY ON MAIN ST. THIS MORNING

Maddened Horses Ramm'd Tongue of Sleigh Into Telephone Pole—Occupants Hurt.

About eleven o'clock this morning a team driven by Joseph Peters, who lives on the James Colville farm on the Indian Ford road about six miles from the city, became frightened on South Main street and started on a wild sprint toward the city. Peters either utterly lost control of the horses or used poor judgment, since they kept edging in toward the east sidewalk as they shot up Main street and an instant later rammed the sleigh tongue into a telephone pole in front of the Empire hotel with terrific force. The driver, his wife, and little daughter pitched forward to the icy street and the horses, bounding free from the wreckage ran on. The man and woman and the child were all badly shaken up and bruised but none of them sustained permanent injuries. They were taken into the hotel and subsequently to Dr. Judd's office, at 215 Milwaukee street, where they were treated. The team was stopped before it reached the home barn six miles away.

HARDLY THINKS HE WILL, BUT HE MIGHT

Paul Rudolph Has Not Decided to Resign His Position as Alderman from the Fifth Ward.

"I hardly think I will, and still I might," was Alderman Paul Rudolph's reply when the subject of his reported declaration that he had determined to resign his membership in the common council was broached to him this noon. Mr. Rudolph's term does not expire until the spring of 1908. Mr. Rudolph has some doubts about his being able to spare the necessary time from his business for aldermanic duties. It is likely, however, judging from what he said today, that he will continue to serve the Fifth ward.

JUDGE GRIMM TO BE HERE ALL THE WEEK OF FEB. 18

To Take Up and Dispose of Business Left Over From the November Term of Court.

Clerk of Court Jesse Earle received word from Judge Grimm today to the effect that he will finish his work at Jefferson during the coming week and will be here all the week commencing with the Monday following (Feb. 18) to dispose of such business remaining over from the November term as may be taken care of at that time.

LOCAL LAONICS.

Exploded in His Pipe: A corn-cob pipe belonging to August Krueger was wrecked by an explosion at the Evansville cut-off. Krueger's house the other day. Some joker had secreted a percussion cap in the bowl and the thing went off with a violence that startled even the perpetrators of this genial little pleasure. The smoker escaped without injury.
Hiawatha Water Advertising City: Since last June the Hiawatha Springs Co. has shipped 27 carloads of the sparkling water which is helping to make the name of Janesville famous far and near. Big consignments have recently been sent to Canada and yesterday a carload was forwarded to Baltimore.

BAR NOT TO ASK INCREASED POWERS FOR CITY'S COURT

Sentiment of the Majority of the Local Lawyers Was Against the Proposition—Want Circuit Court Jury Terms Changed.

Sentiment unfavorable to the project of petitioning the legislature to increase the jurisdiction of the Janesville municipal court to $25,000, thereby giving it practically concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court, was found to be so general at the special meeting of the Rock County Bar Association, convened at the office of President William Smith on Wednesday, that the unfavorable report of the committee appointed on Jan. 19 to pass upon the matter, was adopted without discussion and by a unanimous vote.

The proposal to make an effort to have the present jury terms for Rock county changed was taken under advisement. Under the present regime there are three court terms—February and November, which are jury terms, and June which is not. A case necessitating the services of a jury which is started early in January cannot be tried until the November term, under this order, inasmuch as 20 days must elapse after the complaint has been filed in order to give the defendant an opportunity to answer, and the case must be noticed for trial ten days before the term begins. These new cases which go over to November must also, necessarily, take their places at the bottom of the list—giving precedence to the older cases which are continued over from term to term. Those who desire reform in this regard argue for three jury terms—one in February, one in May, and one in October.

General opinion was found to be favorable to the proposition and steps will doubtless be taken to petition the legislature to take the desired action with regard thereto.

A. E. Stewart of Edgerton was a Janesville visitor Wednesday.

Eaco Flour

Next to having the finest quality of flour and the whitest, sweetest, lightest bread, is the knowing that you can always get it, with the certainty of its always being just the same, always uniform.

Eaco Flour Is Always All Right...

Costs more because it takes more wheat to make it; requires more care, skill and finer milling equipment.

Every kernel is washed in pure artesian water.

You wouldn't think of cooking beans without washing them. How many mills do you suppose wash their wheat?

It's a score of these little things that makes EACO the best and highest priced flour on the market.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, February 8, 1867.—The Benefit of Advertising.—We advertised last evening for a moderate freeze to protect the excellent sleighing and it was furnished before morning. Advertising always pays.

A Curiosity—Dr. J. B. Whiting left in our office today a piece of deer's horn some seven inches in length, which was found by Mr. Stewson, who was chopping a tree on the doctor's wood lot. It was imbedded in the very heart of a burr oak two feet in diameter and six from the ground. The tree must have taken a horn at a very early period of its existence.

Apology—The carrier who distributes the Gazette in the southwestern portion of the Fourth Ward, has been unable to discharge his duties by reason of disability for the last few days, and it is quite possible that the carrier supplying for him may fail to deliver some of the papers on the route as he is not conversant with it. The old carrier will resume his duties shortly when, we hope, there will be no further cause for complaint.

A Card—The Members of the Water Witch Engine Co. No. 2 tender their thanks to Hon. Jno. Mitchell for refreshments sent to their engine house last evening, coupled with the assurance that "when duty calls" he will always find us "ready to obey." In this card we wish to say to all our kind friends that though "sometimes rough, we are always ready." Again we say, Dr. Mitchell, you have the good thanks and the well wishes of Number Two.

JOHN GORMAN, Foreman.
Janesville, Feb. 8th, 1867.

February 8, 1904—Three years ago today the United States sent a note to Russia, Japan and the Powers, asking a guarantee to preserve the integrity of China.

Find Uncle Sam.

Where Man Is Gallant.

In many foreign cities there is a marked absence of the gallantry that in this country habitually characterizes the attitude of men toward women. Eleanor Gates, a young American writer, who has traveled widely in the United States, says that deference toward her sex decreases with the increasing density of population. In sparsely settled regions of the west woman stands upon a plane tacitly superior. New York is the most ungallant city in the United States.

ELECTRICAL CONVENIENCES

Of every description are on display at our office, which can be connected in any house using Electric Light.

THE LUMINOUS RADIATOR

Giving off both heat and light will take the chill off of the bath room or bed room on a cold morning. It does not give off gas nor smoke like other heaters.

THE CURLING IRON HEATER

heats the iron quickly and without the soot and danger of other methods. Costs but 1/2 a cent an hour to use.

AN ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

will boil a cup of water in three minutes. It is very handy for shaving purposes or in the sick room.

THE HEATING PAD

takes the place of the old-fashioned hot water bottle. Its heat can be regulated to any temperature, turned on and off without disturbing the patient. They are highly recommended by physicians for their sanitary features.

Why not have your house wired now and enjoy the advantages of electricity forever?

THREE SUNDAY SCHOOLS WILL MEET AT AFTON
SUNDAY FOR CONFERENCE

Afton, Feb. 8.—Sunday school workers from three schools will meet at the Baptist church here next Sunday for a joint conference, the morning session to open at 10 o'clock and the afternoon session at 1:30.

The schools taking part in the meeting are the Riverside school from Happy Hollow, the Crist school from the town of Beloit and the Afton Baptist school.

The following Sunday school workers have a part in the program: D. L.
Willson of Edgerton, president of the county Sunday school association; W.
T. Dobson of Beloit, vice president of the association; J. T. Wright of Janesville; Rev. C. J. Eddy of Rockton, Ill.; Fred Lambert, Mrs. S. B.
Hall and Miss Grace Hall of Riverside school; Roy Cole and Miss Edith Cole of Crist school; Supt. O. D. An-dusel, William Denoyer and U. G.
Walte of Afton school. Those in attendance at the conference will bring their dinners and partake of them at the church during the noon hour. The Afton school is preparing to furnish hot coffee for all and will endeavor to make it pleasant for the visitors.

Come out next Sunday and spend a

COOKSVILLE
Cooksville, Feb. 7.—Jack Robertson has repaired the school bell so that its welcome sound is heard once more. For some weeks the teacher has had to tap the wash basin to call school.

Mrs. Lottie Hanson's mother is quite poorly. She is over eighty.
Claude Danks was an over-night visitor at his sister's, Mrs. Millie Johnson, and a good hand at whist.

SURPRISE PARTY IN HONOR OF BIRTHDAY

J. M. Bostwick Was Involuntary Host to Merry Company of Clerks Last Evening—73 Years Old Sunday.

Sunday was the seventy-third birthday anniversary of J. M. Bostwick and a score of the clerks employed by Janesville's young and venerable merchant surprised him at his home on Court street at six o'clock last evening. The arrival of the company gave the host his first intimation that anything unusual was afoot but members of his family had advance information and a sumptuous repast was in readiness a half hour later.

After a good time was spent at the table the host was the recipient of the happiest and heartiest of felicitations when the time for parting came.

Mr. Bostwick was born in the town of Bethany, Genesee county, New York, February 3, 1834. He came to Janesville in 1847 and a year later entered the employ of Bailey & Dimock, general merchants. Not long thereafter the firm became Dimock & Clarke, and subsequently it changed to H. O. Clarke & Co. In 1884 the last-named concern failed and Mr.
Bostwick entered the employ of J. W.
Wheelock. Later on he associated himself with William Knowles and bought the stock of Mr. Wheelock's establishment, but the same was sold out within six months. He then associated himself with O. K. Bennett in the firm of Bennett & Bostwick which took over the H. O. Clarke & Co. stock. This association lasted for four and a half years, at the end of which period the partners divided the stock and Mrs. Bostwick formed a new association with M. C. Smith, under the firm name of Smith & Bostwick. This firm existed and prospered for a period of twenty-one years.

In 1882 the management changed to J. M. Bostwick & Sons, the sons Joseph L. and Robert M. being admitted to joint partnership with their father, and wise business methods and management have since resulted in the building up of one of the largest and finest dry goods establishments in southern Wisconsin.

All through these years J. M. Bostwick has been a liberal and public spirited citizen, aiding generously in all movements for the betterment of the commonwealth and more than often being the first to respond to the call. Though the milestone which he has just passed lies a little way along in the autumn of life, he is as young and active and vigorous as a man of forty, and in this his friends, who are almost co-extensive with the census enumeration of the city and surrounding country, sincerely rejoice.

FIREMAN SAW GREEN LIGHT.
Engineer Tripp Testifies About the Wreck at Fowler, Ind.

Kankakee, Ill., Aug. 8.—E. W.
Tripp, engineer of the passenger train that collided head-on with a freight train on the Big Four at Fowler, Ind., January 9, causing the death of 16 persons, was questioned Thursday by Coroner Cromley of Fowler. Tripp said: "I am positive that I was not going over 30 or 35 miles an hour when I struck the freight. My fireman, Henry Outcault, who was killed, had his head out of the window looking for the light on the order board at Fowler."

A Woman's View
In a recent magazine article on
"How to Please Your Audience," Lilian Rhodes, now playing Gwendolyn in support of S. Miller Kent in "Rattles," which comes to the Myers theatre Saturday, Feb. 16, matinee and evening, says: "It is difficult for one to judge what will please people in the way of acting. It is more difficult for a woman to say what will please another woman. During the period I have been on the stage, most of which time was spent in Broadway theatres, I have tried to please both sexes, but I am more happy when I receive words of commendation from a woman rather than from a man who goes out of his way to say nice things to me. This is no disparagement of the sterner sex but merely because I think it is harder for a woman to entertain another woman than it is to find favor before the footlights with a man. Somehow, women expect more of a woman. They are more prone to criticize little details of omission or of commission than men who do not understand whether we are making mistakes or not, and that is the very reason why I try to make friends of the female persuasion throughout the country who are connected with the press. When I can succeed in winning the women to my side, the rest is easy. The men must follow. On one point I am quite positive, and that is the public's desire for refinement in stage women. There is never an encouragement for aught that savors even remotely of vulgarity. A woman to succeed on the American stage today must be thoroughly womanly in all matters pertaining to her art. They want her bright, witty clever, but they will not stand for the slightest suggestion of coarseness. But, as I said before, if I can please my women auditors, I have nothing to fear, for the men will back the femi-ne judgment always."

TRAIN HITS AN ELEVATOR

THREE ARE KILLED IN WRECK OF GREAT WESTERN FAST MAIL.

Four Others Seriously Hurt—Engine and Cars Leave Track While Going 60 Miles an Hour.

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 8.—The Omaha fast mail, on the Great Western railway, was wrecked at German Valley, a small station in the southeast corner of Stephenson county and 96 miles from Chicago, killing three and seriously injuring four others early Thursday morning. The sleeping coaches were the only ones which kept the track and the rest rolled down the low embankment on which the Great Western tracks are laid throughout its entire distance.

The dead are Martin Cline, of Chicago, and two mail clerks.

It is said that the conductor of the wrecked train was instructed to take a siding at German Valley either to escape blocking from a smashed freight car there or to go around a freight train stalled at that point.

The train was going 60 miles an hour and striking a spiked switch, left the rails and went over the embankment. The engine turned over and struck the small grain elevator at the point, which is operated by the railway as a collection point from the farms around. The impact was sufficient to break in the walls of the elevator and a stream of grain poured out, burying the train crew and some of the mail clerks.

EDINBURG, N. D., IN DISTRESS.
Fuel and Food Failing and No Mail
in Three Weeks.

Washington, Feb. 8.—An urgent appeal for fuel has been received by the interstate commerce commission from the town government of Edinburg, N. D. A dispatch says suffering there is imminent and business places are closing.

Grocers are running out of supplies. There have been no local freights since December 24, the dispatch says, and no mail has left the place for three weeks. It is claimed that coal has been on the road since October 15, and but two cars have been received in six weeks after repeated appeals. The charge is made that the railroad line is open, but little or no effort is made to move trains.

Chairman Knapp has called the attention of President Hill of the Great Northern railway to the matter.

PITTSBURG COLD; GAS FAILS.
People Have to Go to Bed to Keep Warm.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 8.—The coldest weather of the present winter is being experienced in western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and West Virginia. The mercury reached zero in this city, while at Elkins, W. Va., 14 degrees below was registered. In the suburbs of Pittsburgh the temperature averaged eight degrees below.

The cold weather resulted in the usual gas shortage in this city, and much suffering is reported. The gas supply failed late Wednesday night, and in several districts people were obliged to seek their beds to keep warm.

THE HOUSE OF A THOUSAND CANDLES

By MARGARET NICHOLSON
AUTHOR OF "THE MAIN CHANCE," "THE DANCING SHOE," COPYRIGHT 1906 BY JAMES W. MERRILL CO.

"Now, as to Morgan—"
"Yes, sir."
"What possible business do you suppose he has with Mr. Pickering?" I demanded.

"Why, sir, that's clear enough. Mr. Pickering owns a house up the lake—he got it through your grandfather. Morgan has the care of it, sir."

"Very plausible, indeed!"—and I sent him off to his work.
After luncheon I went to the end of the corridor, and began to sound the hammer. They were as solid as rock, and responded dully to the strokes of the hammer. I sounded them on both sides, retracing my steps to the stairway, becoming more and more impatient at my ill-luck or stupidity. There was every reason why I should know my own house, and yet a stranger and an outlaw ran through it with amazing daring.

After an hour's idle search I returned to the end of the corridor, repeated all my previous soundings, and, I fear, indulged in language unbecoming a gentleman. Then, in my blind anger, I found what patient search had not disclosed.

I threw the hammer from me in a fit of temper and it struck one of the square blocks in the cement floor which gave forth a hollow sound. I was on my knees in an instant, my fingers searching the cracks, and drawing down close I could feel a current of air, slight but unmistakable, against my face.

The cement square, though exactly like the others in the cellar floor, was evidently only an imitation, with an opening beneath.

The block was fitted into its place with a nicety that certified to the skill of the hand that had adjusted it. I broke a blade of my pocket-knife trying to pry it up, but, in a moment, I succeeded, and found it to be in reality a trap door, hinged to the substantial part of the floor.

A current of cool, fresh air, the same that had surprised me in the night, struck my face as I lay flat and peered into the opening. The lower passage was as black as pitch, and I lighted a lantern. I had brought, with me, found that wooden steps gave safe conduct below and went down.

I stood erect in the passage and had several inches to spare. It extended both ways, running back under the foundations of the house, and cut squarely under the park before the house and toward the school wall. The air grew steadily fresher, until, after I had gone about two hundred yards, I reached a point where the wind seemed to beat down on me from above. I put up my hands and found two openings about three yards apart, through which the air sucked steadily. I moved out of the current with a chuckle in my throat and a grin on my face. I had passed under the gate in the school wall, and I knew now why the piers that held it had been built so high—they were hollow, and were the means of sending fresh air into the tunnel.

When I had traveled about twenty yards more I felt a slight vibration accompanied by a muffled roar, and almost immediately came to a rough wooden stair that marked the end of the passage. I had no means of judging directions, but I assumed that I was well within the school park.

I climbed the steps and in a moment stood blinking, my lantern in hand, in a small, floored room. Overhead, the tumult and thunder of an organ explained the tremor and roar I had heard below. I was in the crypt of St. Agatha's chapel. The inside of the door by which I had entered was a part of the wainscoting of the room, and the opening was wholly covered with a map of the Holy Land.

It was all very strange and interesting. I looked at my watch and found that it was five o'clock, but I resolved to go into the chapel before going home.

The way up was clear enough, and I was soon in the vestibule. I opened the door, expecting to find a service in progress; but the little church was empty save where, at the right of the chancel, an organist was filling the church with the notes of an exultant march. Cap in hand I stole forward, and sank down in one of the pews.

A lamp over the organ keyboard gave the only light in the chapel, and made an aureole about her head—about the uncovered head of Olivia Gladys Armstrong! I smiled as I recognized her and smiled, too, as I remembered her name. But the joy she brought to the music, the happiness in her face as she raised it in the minor harmonies, her isolation, marked by the little Isle of light against the dark background of the choir—these things touched and moved me, and I bent forward, my arms upon the pew in front of me, watching and listening with a kind of awed wonder.

There was no pause in the outpouring of the melody. She changed stops and manuals with swift fingers and passed from one composition to another; now it was an august hymn, now a theme from Wagner, and finally Mendelssohn's spring song won the cold, dark chapel to light and warmth with its exultant notes.

She ceased suddenly with a little sigh and struck her hands together, for the place was cold. As she reached up to put out the lights I stepped forward to the chancel steps.

"Please allow me to do that for you?"

She turned toward me, gathering a cape about her.

"Oh, it's you, is it?" she asked, looking about quickly. "I don't remember that you were invited."

"I didn't know I was coming myself," I remarked truthfully, lifting my hand to the lamp.

"That is my opinion of you,—that you're a rather unexpected person. But thank you, very much."

She showed no disposition to prolong the interview, but hurried toward the door, and reached the vestibule before I came up with her.

"You can't go any farther, Mr. Glenarm," she said, and waited as though to make sure I understood. Straight before us through the wood and beyond the school buildings the sunset faded, sullenly. Night was following fast upon the gray twilight and already the bolder planets were aflame in the sky. The path led straight ahead beneath the black boughs.

"I might perhaps walk to the dormitory, or whatever you call it," I said.

"Thank you, no! I'm late and haven't time to bother with you. It's against the rules, you know, for us to receive visitors."

She stepped out upon the path. "But I'm not a caller; I'm just a neighbor! And I owe you several calls, anyhow."

She laughed but did not pause and I followed a pace behind her.

"I hope you don't think for a moment that I chased a rabbit on your side of the fence in the hope of meeting you, do you, Mr. Glenarm?"

"Be it far from me! I'm glad I came, though, for I liked your music immensely. I'm in earnest, I think it quite wonderful, Miss Armstrong."

She paid no heed to me.

"And I hope I may promise myself the pleasure of hearing you often."

"You are very kind about my poor music, Mr. Glenarm; but as I'm going away—"

"I felt my heart sink a trifle. She was the only amusing person I had met at Glenarm, and the thought of losing her gave a darker note to the bleak landscape."

"That's really, too, bad! And just when we were getting acquainted! And I was coming to church Sunday to hear you play and to pray for snow, so you'd come over often to chase rabbits!"

This, I thought, softened her heart. At any rate her tone changed.

"I don't play for services; they're afraid to let me for fear I'd run comic operas tunes into the Te Deum!"

"How shocking!"

"Do you know, Mr. Glenarm,"—her tone became confidential and her pace slackened,—we call you the squire, at St. Agatha's, and the lord of the manor, and names like that! All the girls are perfectly crazy about you. They'd be wild if they thought I talked with you, clandestinely,—is that the way you pronounce it?"

"Anything you say and any way you say it satisfies me," I replied.

"That's ever so nice of you," she said, mockingly again.

I felt foolish and guilty. She would probably get roundly scolded if the grave sisters learned of her talks with me, and very likely I should win their hearty contempt. But I did not turn back.

"I hope the reason you're leaving isn't—"

"I hesitated."

"Oh, yes; I'm terribly

"Oh, yes, I'm terribly wicked, Squire Glenarm."

wicked, Squire Glenarm! They're sending me off."

"But I suppose the Sisters are awfully strict."

"They're hideous,—perfectly hideous."

"Where is your home?" I demanded.

"Chicago, Louisville, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, perhaps."

"Humph, you are full! You ought to know from my accent that I'm not from Chicago. And I hope I haven't a Kentucky girl's air of waiting to be flattered to death. And no Indianapolis girl would talk to a stranger man at the edge of a deep wood in the gray twilight of a winter day,—that's from a book; and the Cincinnati girl is without my elan, esprit,—whatever you please to call it. She has more Teutonic repose,—more Gretchen of the Rhine valley about her. Don't you adore French, Squire Glenarm?" she concluded, breathlessly, and with no pause in her quick step.

"I adore yours, Miss Armstrong," I asserted, yielding myself further to the joy of idleness, and delighting in the mockery and whimsical moods of her talk. I did not make her out; indeed, I preferred not to! I was not then,—and I am not now, thank God!—of an analytical turn of mind. And as I grow older I prefer, even after many a blow, to take my fellow human beings as I find them. And as for women, old or young, I envy no man his gift of resolving them into elements. As well carry a spray of arbutus to the laboratory or subject the enchantment of moonlight upon running water to the flame and blow-pipe as try to analyze the heart of a girl,—particularly a girl who paddles a canoe with a sure stroke and puts up a good race with a rabbit.

A lamp shone ahead of us at the entrance of one of the houses, and lights appeared in all the buildings.

"If I knew your window I should certainly sing under it,—except that you're going home! You didn't tell me why they were deporting you."

"I'm really ashamed to! You would never—"

STATE OF WISCONSIN ss.

Rock County.

MISS MARIANA HENRY, CHICAGO.
5036 Forrestville Ave.
Miss Henry says: "Before I began using Danderine my hair was falling out in great handfuls, and I am pleased to say that Danderine not only stopped it, but has made my hair grow more than twice as long as it ever was."
Mrs. Edith Aberton, Little Rock, Ark., says: "It is surely remarkable the way Danderine improves the hair. It has made my hair grow ten inches longer in five months and it is getting thicker and longer all the time. I believe in giving praise where it is due, and you can use my name as reference if you so desire."

DANDERINE is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, fertilizing and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. IT IS THE NATURAL FOOD OF THE HAIR, SCIENTIFICALLY CHARGED WITH NEW AND GENUINE LIFE-PRODUCING ESSENCES, UNHEARD-OF BY OTHER MAKERS OF HAIR TONIC. NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle.

To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a free sample bottle to anyone who sends this advertisement FREE to the Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago, with their name and address and ten cents in silver or stamps to pay postage.

FOR SALE AND GUARANTEED BY PEOPLE'S DRUG CO. AND KING'S PHARMACY

Howard W. Lee, being duly sworn, deposes and says he is county clerk of the county and state aforesaid, and that the foregoing report and the following list of tax certificates redeemed and not paid over to certificate holders is correct and true, according to the best of his knowledge and belief.
